Additional Information Regarding the Access ADA In-Person Assessment and Eligibility

All Access ADA applicants are required to complete an in-person assessment with a Community Mobility Specialist at an Omnitrans facility by appointment only. You will need to bring your completed application packet, including the Healthcare Professional Verification Section completed by a qualified licensed medical professional. The review process may take up to two hours in addition to your travel time, and free transportation to and from your assessment is available upon request.

During the assessment, the Community Mobility Specialist will review your application and ask additional questions regarding your ability to use the regular bus system. You may be required to participate in a functional assessment outdoors in the community to further evaluate your abilities. You will receive your eligibility determination in writing within 21 days from the date your application is complete, which includes your in-person review and review of any additional information. You may be granted full eligibility (Unconditional), eligibility on a limited basis for specific conditions (Conditional), or for a temporary period (Temporary). Your photo will be taken during the in-person assessment and will be used on your ADA identification card if you are determined to be eligible.

Eligibility determinations are based solely on whether you have a disability which prevents you from riding the bus all or some of the time. Individuals who are determined to have the ability to ride the regular bus system for all trips will not receive eligibility for Access. If you disagree with your eligibility determination, you may select either a Level One or Level Two written appeal to Omnitrans within 60 days. In a Level One appeal, an Appeal Specialist independent of the Eligibility Department will review the documentation and any new information you provide which you feel is relevant. In a Level Two appeal, you can appear before an Appeal Review Panel to present information you feel should be taken into consideration. The panel's decision is final. For additional information regarding Omnitrans Access service, refer to the most recent version of the "Paratransit Policies for Persons with Disabilities" brochure.

Information that you provide will be used to determine eligibility for programs and is kept strictly confidential.
